the phone hacking scandal can also relate to the times we have gotten “leaked” phone calls over the years .. you know which ones

Also appearing in a picture frame is Ken Dodd. In 1989, Ken was tried for tax evasion, led by Brian Leveson. Brian Leveson is more recently known for presiding over the British press phone-hacking scandal. This is interesting because Louis just told a fan that he lost his phone when doing fan service at a truck stop after their last concert. One more little detail about Ken's trial for tax evasion? It was because he was using children in his show and not paying them. Can anyone think of any parallels we might be able to get from that? Anybody? Anyone? This is also now the second concert in a row that has references to legal battles.

The picture frame today has a picture of Liberace. Liberace embraced flamboyancy both on and off-stage. He publicly denied his homosexual orientation, and successfully sued newspapers and magazines that reported on his gay relationships. Liberace was often described in ways that very strongly implied him being homosexual, without explicitly saying that. Betty White has stated in interviews that Liberace was in fact gay, and that she was a “beard” for him.

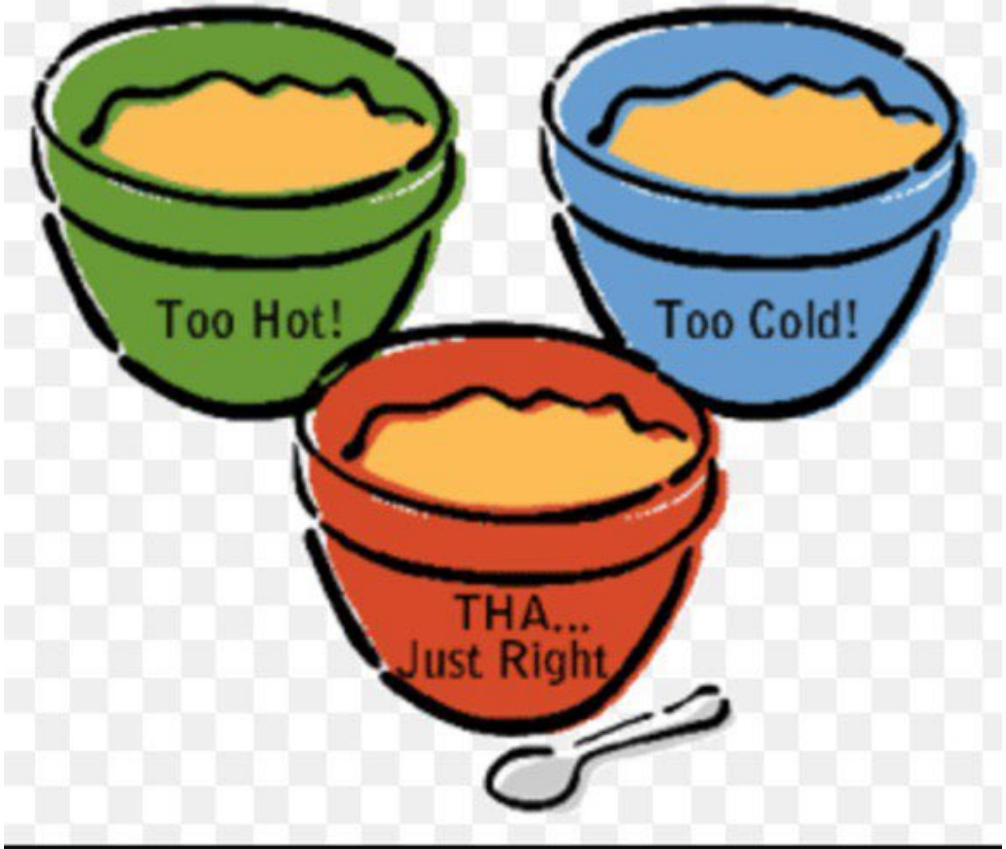
We also get a pfp change
Bears again not at this show



Too Hot!

Just Right

The profile image for the official twitter account was also changed, showing the bears all dressed up. The main theory I've seen from the fandom is that the flute and the violin represent a pipe and a fiddle. "Pay the piper" and "Pay the fiddler" are both sayings that mean owning up to your actions and facing the consequences. It has also been suggested that RBB represents the Pied Piper, as explained in this post. There was also a gay violinist who boycotted a Russian-Irish music festival because of Russia's laws against homosexuality. Coincidence or…?

The book is From Drag to Riches, Danny La Rue's autobiography. La Rue was a gay man famous for his cross-dressing and female impersonations. He toured constantly for five years before getting a break. He is also quoted as saying "My life is my job. I work forty-eight weeks in a year and I've never missed a performance." Again, coincidences or…?
